SMALLPOX IN FALLON

Quarantines have been lifted from two of the Fallon homes where smallpox has existed during late days and the I. B. Marsh, E. J. Lyons and W. K. Davis homes are the only local habitats now closed because of a visitation of smallpox in light form.

No 11 o'clock hunger after this breakfast

THE MILK IS ALREADY IN THE FLOUR

When it's warm weather and you don't want to eat a lot of heavy food, then an Aunt Jemima breakfast fills the bill better than ever! For these golden-brown, tender cakes "stay with you" when a less satisfying breakfast won't, and you don't get that starved feeling along towards noon.

Just the breakfast for summer, because Aunt Jemima Pancakes are famously easy to prepare, too. All the ingredients come ready mixed in the flour—even the sweet milk (powdered). The simple addition of water makes perfect pancakes. Get a package from your grocer. It makes delicious mufins, too.

SEVEN HOURS PER DAY SHOPPING FOR MEAL

Correspondence Associated Press

ROME July 28.—Seven hours of each day of the Italian housekeeper must be devoted to buying food. The problem of the ordinary American housekeeper now into insignificance even with their household servants when compared with that of the Italian. Domestic servants' strikes in Italy are chronic.

The recent upheaval in Italian economy when the government ordered prices of foodstuffs and clothing reduced 50 per cent has begun its reaction and the factor affected most is the housekeeper. She must start to market at 7 o'clock in the morning and is forced to hurry from one store to another. To obtain a piece of meat usually takes two hours. To obtain bread about an hour, eggs two hours, vegetables one hour and a half, and canned goods about an hour.

The housekeeper's day starts by placing herself at the back of a long line of waiting customers. The line sometimes extends for half a block guarded by armed carabinieri. When the buyer is permitted to enter the store she finds inside a scramble for all sorts of commodities. Guards are stationed here to prevent any mischief. If she obtains what she wants she is lucky.

She trends over the street a whole morning searching for the things for lunch, and then in the afternoon must start on the hunt again for food. If she is looking for butter she is usually disappointed for there is little to be had. She may obtain meat, but is usually thankful to go away with a can of American "hully beef."

It often happens that her family must miss a meal but that is usually overlooked. It is too evident in every hand.

Housekeepers sometimes watch a car of produce unloaded at the railroad station and follow the motor trucks to the store where the produce will be sold. When a carload of eggs arrived the other day women elung to the trucks, carrying the egg to stores while others ran alongside. At the stores the clerks stood in doorways and handed out the eggs, three only, to a customer. Some customers reached over others' heads with their hats while others pushed aside the weaker ones.

Servants take their rest days by telling the housekeeper they are going for a day or two. They come back when it suits them. The days of those "perfect Italian servants" as Americans were wont to call them have passed away and a housekeeper is lucky to have a servant at all.

GOES TO SUSANVILLE

Seymour Case, deputy state engineer, who recently resigned the position, has gone to Susanville, Cal., accompanied by his wife and they will make their future home at that place.

Mr. Case, with associates, has interests in a tract of land in the fertile valley and it is to construct reservoirs, ditches, and other engineering work that he has left the state's service.
